MASTER ROBERTSON.

Friends in Frankfort are in receipt of the news of the arrival of a fine son at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Boyd Robertson, at their home at Crescent Hill. Mr. and Mrs. Robertson are remembered with pleasure as residents of this city before going to Crescent Hill to make their home.

FOR MISS FARMER.

Miss Alice Farmer, who is the guest of Miss Sina Lee Harris, in Louisville, was delightfully entertained with a box party at the Mary Anderson theatre on Tuesday evening. After the play the party were served with a delicious luncheon at Benedict's. Among those who composed the party were Misses Alice Farmer, Sina Lee Harris and Messrs. John Long and Barrie Norman.

MEETING OF LARGE BRIDGE CLUB.

The Large Bridge Club was delightfully entertained Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. John W. Milam at her home on Clinton street. The parlors and dining hall were beautifully decorated with spruce and lilies of the valley.

There were seven tables and on each was placed a vase holding the lilies. These were also attached to the place cards.

Several members of the club being absent, their places were filled by Mrs. French Hoge, Miss Annie Brown, Miss Irma Labrot, Mrs. Motter, of Chicago, the guest of Mrs. Jesse R. Zeigler, Miss Helen Bate Floyd, of Louisville, the guest of Mrs. Clarence Julian, Mrs. George Baker, and Mrs. Frank Staggs.

Following the game a delicious and appetizing luncheon was served the members and their guests, who were Mrs. Clay H. Hatchett, Mrs. Jesse R. Zeigler and Mrs. Christine Reynolds.

Mrs. John H. Stuart won the club pin.

DANCING PARTY IN HONOR OF GUESTS.

The following note from the social column of Sunday's Lexington Herald will be of much interest to friends in Frankfort:

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. VanMeter entertained Saturday evening very delightfully with a dancing party at Hill Crest, their country home, in honor of their attractive guests, Misses Gladys Rodman and Mary Belle Taylor, of Frankfort, and Miss Norma Chamberlain, of Louisville. This beautiful old country home was thrown open and decorated with plants and a quantity of spring flowers for the occasion and the delightful hours were made very pleasant. An orchestra furnished music for dancing, and during the evening a delicious supper was served. Mr. and Mrs. VanMeter were assisted in receiving by their guests and Mr. and Mrs. Archie Hamilton, and among those present were: Misses Minerva Lida Clay Ingels, Mary Bacon, Florence Shelby, Lida Carter, Alma Headley, Artemesia Barrow, May Shanklin, Norma Stevenson, Gretchen Miller, Daisy Burton, Elizabeth Estill, Elizabeth Landeman, Lilly Stucky, Kathleen Bryan, Margaret and Joe Davis, Elizabeth and Dorothy Laughridge, Messrs. ENGAGEMENT OF INTEREST TO FRANKFORT SOCIETY.

Mr. and Mrs. James E. Clay, of "Marchmont," Bourbon county, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Nancy Clay, to Mr. Arthur B. Hancock, of Charlottesville, Virginia. The wedding will be solemnized in June and will be one of the beautiful events of the early summer.

Miss Clay is quite well known in Frankfort's social circles, and is one of the loveliest visitors whom her many friends delight to honor. She comes quite frequently as the guest of Miss Emily Thomas.

She is a member of one of the most prominent old families of the State, and one of Bourbon county's handsomest and most attractive women. Mr. Hancock is a representative of a prominent old Virginia family and is very popular.

MARRIED LADIES EUCHRE CLUB.

Mrs. J. J. Brislan and Mrs. Thos. J. Brislan entertained the Married Ladies Euchre Club Wednesday afternoon at the beautiful home of Mrs. J. J. Brislan, on Third street. The spacious rooms were attractively decorated with lilies of the valley and other early spring flowers. Owing to the removal of the officers of the Kentucky Distilleries and Warehouse Co. to Louisville several members of the club were absent, whose places were filled by friends.

Miss Kate Newman was awarded the first prize. Mrs. C. E. Collins the second and Mrs. V. Berberich the third. Following the game a delightful luncheon was served the members and their guests.

TEA IN HONOR OF MRS. FORISTELL.

One of the prettiest functions of the week in social circles was the tea given yesterday afternoon by Misses

Anna Belle and Elizabeth Hunt Chinn, at their handsome home, on West Main street, in compliment to Mrs. Murray G. Foristell, of Wentzelle, Mo., who is the guest of Miss Jennie C. Morton and Miss Sally. The reception hall, parlors and which lend themselves so admirably for entertainment, were draped with southern smilax and ferns, palms and blooming pink hydrangeas were placed about the rooms. About twenty-five guests graced the occasion with their presence.

LOFT CLUB MEETS.

The Loft Club met Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Wm. Crowe, of Montgomery, for the purpose of entertaining Mrs. Montgomery, of Louisville, which for the first time was quite attractive.
